Preface

It is indeed a matter of great pride for us that, the Pharmacy Council of India (PCI), New Delhi has framed Bachelor of Pharmacy (B. Pharm.) course regulations 2014. The Physical Pharmaceutics-I is a very important subject at Second year of the course. It gives us a great pleasure to present this book in the hand of readers. The book is strictly written as per syllabus framed by PCI under Section 6, 7 & 8 of Regulation 2014 and we had made an attempt to make it simple and understandable to the readers. The sequence of syllabus content is designed unit wise imparting better understanding of subject matter. In this book wherever needed full forms and abbreviations, pictorial diagrams, tabular data, examples of formulation including marketed products and manufacturers are given. Model questions are given at the end of every subunit to exercise on contents studied.

We owe a great debt of gratitude to Hon. Dr. Patangraoji Kadam, Founder, Bharati Vidyapeeth Pune, for their encouragement. We are indeed very grateful to Prof. Dr. Shivajirao Kadam, Pro-Chancellor, Bharati Vidyapeeth University, Pune for his consistent and cheerful support and Dr. Vishwajit Kadam, Secretary Bharati Vidyapeeth, Pune for encouragement and motivation. We honestly extend our gratitude to Dr. H. N. More, Principal, Bharati Vidyapeeth College of Pharmacy, Kolhapur for freedom to work and timely help. We are thankful to Mrs. Snehal Patil Librarian for her co-operation during literature work.

We thank Mrs. Suvarna and Mrs. Shital, Digvijay and Aarush and our parents from bottom of heart for sustained support, encouragement and for their forbearance.

We are thankful to Mr. Jignesh Furia, Ilyas Shaikh, Anagha Medhekar, Manasi Pingle of Nirali Prakashan, Pune and Staff of Nirali Prakashan for bringing out nicely printed book.

Aktu b pharm syllabus pci.

I've had delightful experiences, where I stayed up late with the owners, drinking wine and swapping stories. And I've had bizarre visits, such as the time when I watched a cat walk across a table full of food — and the owner did nothing. There wasn't any Wi-Fi, for example (although the owner said they'd be adding it in the future). We were tired, hungry and in no mood for chatter. We arrived on a rainy Thursday night, carrying a pizza and beer that we had picked up at the local Casey's (an Iowan equivalent to 7-11). But I felt like we got a very good deal, as our room was only $80 (Monday through Thursdays; the price goes up to $100 on the weekends), especially when I saw our next hotel, the rather grim Days Inn in Atlantic, Iowa. - 16 Apr 2021, 16:55 #4731 B Pharmacy PCI syllabus from First (I) to Eight (VIII) semesters wise are enclosed as a separated PDF files for your reference. But one of the pleasures of staying at a bed and breakfast is having someone else make your eggs — and when it's done right, you can stay full through mid-afternoon. That's because the owner, Steve, did a few things right that all B&B owners should keep in mind: Privacy: No one likes an in-your-face host. To make matters weirder, he chose the Heavenly Habitat in Madison County, a church that the owners renovated into a inn. Now, the Heavenly Habitat wasn't perfect. Appropriate decor: The last time we visited Don's family in Iowa, we stayed at a B&B where the entire room — no lie — was covered in flowers. Steve welcomed us into our wing of the church, showed us where the silverware and napkins were and then left us alone, without feeling the need to chitchat. But it never felt over the top or obnoxious. What do you think? So I was a little apprehensive when my husband Don told me that he'd booked a night in a bed and breakfast during a trip we took last year to see his family in Iowa. It felt nice to have some space, without feeling like we were intruding in someone's home. What makes a perfect B&B? — written by Chris Gray Faust The entire second half, which included the fellowship hall, is available for guests. The Heavenly Habitat had a few themes going on in its decor: Madison County bridges in the living room; roosters in the kitchen; churchy objects, such as a pew, here and there. An upbeat, informative host: We had not planned on going to Winterset's John Wayne birthplace, but Steve talked us into it — and we found it a worthwhile stop. A glorious breakfast: It doesn't have to be fancy. The inn only has two rooms, and we were the only ones there that night. We're talking flowers on the wallpaper, flowers on the bedspread, flowers on the carpet. It looked like a greenhouse had exploded. Bliss. It turned out that our night at the Heavenly Habitat was one of the highlights of our four-day trip. He also made sure that we had maps to find the Madison County bridges. Space to spread out: When Steve and his wife bought the church, they took one half — the chapel — as their own to live in. We appreciated Steve's upbeat attitude as well — a stark contrast to B&B managers we met in Sedona once who told us how much they hated running an inn. So we had our own kitchen, living room and bedroom. The potential for awkwardness seemed very high.
