Experiment I > General Discussion > Topic Details Want to remove unwanted mixes from your product lists? Read this. So I was browsing through my save file reading through the quest files and noticed the products folder, then the createdproducts folder inside that and it had a separate file for every mix i did on that save file. So I thought I'd do a sort of experiment to see if deleting those files deleted the mixes in-game and it worked. You have to turn off Steam cloud saving first, right click on Schedule 1 in the Steam launcher, click on properties and you'll see a button to turn off Steam cloud saving. If you try doing this with Steam cloud saving turned on, the save file will be reverted and the deleted mixes restored when you start the game up. Next you need to access your appdata folder, you're better off googling how to do this. I created a shortcut to mine so I don't remember exactly how to access the folder. Once you're in the appdata folder, the file path is local\TVGS, Schedule 1, Saves, you'll see a folder with a bunch of numbers, open that, then savesgame1, or 2, whichever save file you want to do this for. Products, createdproducts. Now delete any mixes you don't want cluttering up your list, or just delete them all and only redo the mixes you want. It's a slight hassle but it's something that works until deleting unwanted mixes becomes a feature. Note: This is ONLY to be used as a guide. Request to remove select info from Google Search You or your authorized representative can submit a request to remove links to the content from Google Search results. Any authorized representative must explain how they have the authority to act on your behalf. Important: We only review the URLs that you or your authorized representative submit in the form. Start removal request What happens after you submit the removal request? You get an automated email confirmation. This confirms we received the request. We review the request. We evaluate each request based on factors including the criteria above. We also evaluate the content for public interest. We gather more info, if needed. If the request doesn't have enough information for us to evaluate, like if URLs are missing, we'll share specific instructions and ask you to resubmit the request. You get a notification of any action taken: If we find the URLs are within the scope of our policies, the URLs will either be removed for all queries or be removed only from search results in which the query includes the affected user's name, or other provided identifiers, such as aliases. If the request doesn't meet the requirements for removal, we'll include a brief explanation. If your request is denied and later you have additional materials to support your case, you can re-submit your request. Frequently asked questions Which removal option do I choose? At the first question, select content that contains your personal information. Select your country of residence. Click Next. Select the type of personal information (ID number, Resident Registration Number, Resident Identity Card number) Bank account or credit card number Images of a handwritten signature or an ID doc Highly personal, restricted, and official records (for example, medical records) Confidential login credentials Other types of personal information What factors do we consider when we evaluate each request? Google may remove PII that has the potential to create significant risks of identity theft, financial fraud, harmful direct contact, or other specific harms. We generally aim to preserve information access if the content is determined to be of public interest. This includes but isn't limited to: Content on or from government and other official sources Newsworthy content Professionally-relevant content What additional factors do we consider when we evaluate for doxing? In some cases, your personal info may appear alongside content that's threatening. We may remove such content under our doxing policy if it meets both of these requirements: Your personal info is present. In the URL, there is the presence of: Explicit or implicit threats against you, or Explicit or implicit calls for others to harm or harass you, or A Significant amount of your personal information is aggregated toward a legitimate purpose. What happens to the URLs if they're approved for removal? When URLs are approved for removal, the result will be one of the following: The URL will not appear in Google Search results anymore. The URL will not appear in Google Search results for a search query that contains your name, or other such identifier. The URL may still appear for other phrases or words you type into the search engine. Which of these removals happens depends on whether the personal information on a page is accompanied by content that is of public interest or has content about other individuals. When we remove content from Google Search, it may still exist on the Internet. Can I track down the source of the content that got removed? No, because we don't store the original version of the content that got removed. How long does it take for content to be removed from Google Search? It usually takes less than 24 hours. However, it could take longer depending on the volume of requests and the complexity of the content. How do I submit more than one URL for review? Add one URL per line. You can submit up to 1,000 URLs. Why do you ask for screenshots in the form? Screenshots of content that's related to you helps us identify offensive content for removal. An image can have content that's relevant to multiple individuals. How do I take a screenshot? You can take a screenshot on your computer or with your mobile device. You may want to take the screenshot on the same device that you use to submit the form. To obscure any sexually explicit portions, edit screenshots you submit. It is capable of pushing very impressive graphics. It can run most AAA titles at max settings without issue. But now I've found myself wanting to play games at lower settings. I know I'm not alone here. I've seen people asking for a way to disable ray tracing in their games. I think it would be a great idea to have a setting to disable ray tracing in the game on something I know I'll like but won't love. Bruma House Upgrades stuck permanently as Quest Items Can't remove the little house upgrade letters for the Bruma House from my inventory, even after buying them all. As far as I can tell, these are the only house upgrades this applies for. Assuming this will get patched, but until then, anyone know a temporary fix? Some way to remove quest items from inventory via console, or tag/but them as quest items, etc? Football Manager 2024 > General Discussions > Topic Details Inter Milan and co licenses have been removed, here's how to restore them. Delta Force > General Discussions > Topic Details Guide on how to fully get rid of the anticheat if you decide to uninstall the game Many people have very strong opinions on kernel-level anti cheats. I don't, but I think it's always good to make sure programs/games you uninstall are -fully- uninstalled without leaving remnants on your PC. Should you ever want to remove Anticheat service? I wrote a small batch script to help you. Openly: Open CMD/Powershell as administrator then enter the commands below after the prompt to remove them: sc delete \"AntichatExpert\"service && sc delete \"ACE-BASE\"Find these files and folders and delete them (shift+delete to permanently delete them) Files/AntiCheatExpertProgramDataFiles/AntiCheatExpertP (hidden folder, so make sure to select show in View panel) ACE-BASE.sys in system32/drivers Last edited by Z1fingaAlien: 5 Dec, 2024 at 10:34m Note: This is ONLY to be used to report spam, advertising, and problematic (harassment, fighting, or rude) posts. Topic Details Unable to remove plant pot with caca seedling in I'm rearranging my grow op and discovered I can't remove any plant container that has a caca seedling in it. Gives error "Contains plant". I've tried punching it since that's a thing, hitting with the bat, using the pruners - is there a way to get rid of these things without waiting for the grow to complete? I would gladly destroy the pot if necessary. TIA Note: This is ONLY to be used to report spam, advertising, and problematic (harassment, fighting, or rude) posts.
