The New Testament, as usually received in the Christian Churches, is © It is composed of twenty-seven different books attributed to eight different authors, six of which are numbered among the Apollos (Matthew, John, Paul, James, Peter, Judas) and two of their immediate disciples (Mark, Luke). The New Testament was not written in one sitting. The books that compose appeared one after another in the space of fifty years, i.e. in the second half of the first one © culo. Written in different and distant countries and addressed to particular churches, it took some time to spread throughout Christianity, and much longer to be accepted. Roman Catholics and Orthodox OrthodoxExamined and The Apocrypha "The Jewish canon, or the Hebrew Bible, was universally received, while the Apocrypha add to the Greek version of the Septuagint were only in a general accounted for the books suitable for church reading, and thus the middle class between canonical and strictly apocryphal (pseudonymous) Offices. And fair enough, for these books, although they have great historical value, and fill the gap between the Old Testament and the New, all originated after the end of the prophecy, and they cannot therefore be considered inspired, nor are they ever cited by Christ or by the apocrypha (Philip Schaff, Christian Church History, Book 3, Chapter 9) 21 reasons why Apocryphate did not © Inspired. The Roman Catholic Church does not officially canonize the Apocryphate at o © the Trento Competition (1546 AD). This was partly because the Apocrypha contained material that supported certain Catholic doctrines, such as purgatory, praying for the dead, and the treasure of the mother. © Rite. None of them are in the Hebrew language, which was used only by the inspired historians and poets of the Old Testament. None of the writers have any pretens e of inspiration. These books have never been recognized as sacred Scriptures by the Jewish Church, and therefore have never been sanctioned by our Lord. They were not allowed a place among the holy books, during the first four are © Christian church glasses. They contain fabulous statements, and statements that contradict not only the canonical Scriptures, but themselves; like when, in the two Books of Macaroon, the Epiphanes Antioch © made to die three different deaths in so many different places. The Apocryphate inculcates doctrines in variance with the Bible, such as prayers for the dead and sinless perfection. And the next day Judas came with his company, to take the bodies of those who were killed, and bury them with their relatives, in the graves of their parents. And they found under the coats of the dead some of the Dols of Jamnia, that the law beofsto the Jews; so that all clearly saw, that for this cause were killed. Then all welcomed the righteous judgment of the Lord, who had discovered the things that were hidden. And so attached to the praying, they begged him, that the sin that had been committed could be forgotten. But the bravest Judas exhorted people to stay away from sin as much as they saw before their eyes what had happened, because of the sins of those who were shred. And making a meeting, he sent twelve thousand silver drachmas to Jerusalem©m for sacrifice for the sins of the dead, thinking well and religiously about the resurrection, (For if he had not expected those who were killed to rise again, it would have seemed superfluous© and vain to pray for the dead.) And because he considered those who had not fallen asleep with pity, had great grace prepared for them. It is therefore a holy and healthy thought to pray for the dead, so that they may be delivered from sins, (2 Maccabees 12:39-46) The apAcrcifa contains © offensive materials impr prios for the authorship of God. Ecclesiasticus 25:19 Any iniquity is © insignificant in comparison with the wickedness of a wife. Ecclesiasticus 25:24 A woman sin had her first. Because of her, we all die. Ecclesiastical 22:3 It is a shame to be the father of an undisciplined, and the birth of a daughter © a loss. Teaches immoral practices such as lying, suicide, murder and magical enchantment. The books themselves refer to what we call the silent forty years, where there were no prophets of God to write inspired materials. And they placed the stones on the temple mountain in a convenient place, until © a prophet came, and gave an answer about them. (1 Maccabees 4:46) And there was a great tribulation in Israel, as it was not from the day, that there was no prophet seen in Israel. (1 Maccabees And that the (1 Maccabees 14,41) Josephus rejected the apocryphal books as inspired and this reflected the Jewish thought in the time of Jesus "From Artexerxes to our own time the complete history was written but was not considered worthy of equal credit with previous records due to the failure of the exact succession of the prophets" ... "We do not have among us an innumerable multitude of books, which disagree and contradict themselves, but only twenty-two books, which contain the records of all past times; which is believed to be just divine..." (Flavius Josephus, Against Apion 1:8) The Handbook of Discipline in the Dead Sea Manuscripts rejected the apocryphals as inspired. The Council of Jamnia had the same opinion that rejected the apocryphals as inspired. They debated the canonicity of some books (e.g. Ecclesiastes), but changed nothing and never proclaimed themselves as determinants of authority of the Old Testament canon. "The books that decided to recognize as canonical were generally accepted, although questions were raised about them. Those who refused to admit had never been included. They did not cast out of the canon any book that had previously been admitted. The Council of Jamnia was the confirmation of public opinion, not its formation" (F. F. Bruce, The Books and Parchments (Old Tappan, NJ.: Fleming H. Revell, 1963], p. 98]) Although it was occasionally cited in the early writings of the church, it was not accepted anywhere in a canon. Melito (AD 170) and Origen rejected the Apocryphals (Ecc. Hist. VI. 25, Eusebius) as well as the Muratorian Canon. Jerome resisted vigorously including Apocrypha in his Latin Vulgate Version (400 AD), but was rejected. As a result, the standard Roman Catholic Bible throughout the medieval period contained it. Thus, gradually was revered by the averageStill, many medieval Catholic scholars realised that it was not inspired. The terms "protocanonical" and "deuterocanonical" are used by the Catholics to mean respectively those books of Scripture that have been received by the whole Church since the beginning a s inspired, and those whose inspiration came to be recognized later, after the matter was contested by certain local priests and churches. Pope Dan (366-384) authorized Jer nimo to translate the Latin Vulgate. The Carthage Council declared this tradition as "the infallible and authentic Bible" Jerome was the first to describe the seven extra books of the Old Testament as "Apocrypha" (doubtful authenticity). Needless to say, Jerome's Latin Vulture does not inclu de Apocrypha. Cyril (born about 315 d.C.) "Read the divine Scriptures- namely, the 22 Old Testament books that the 72 intuit © rpretes translated (the Septuagint) Apocryphals were not included in the beginning at the Septuagint, but were annexed by the Jews of Alexandria, and were not listed in any of the catalogues of the inspired books until © to the Hilarious of the Sound © culo IV (Bishop of Poitiers, 350 d.C.) rejected the apocryphals (Next to Psalms, Sec. 15) Epiphany (the great opponent of heresy, 360 d.C.) rejected them all. Referring to the Wisdom of Solomon's Book of Jesus Sirach, he said, "These are indeed profitable books, but are not placed in the number of the song" The Apocrypha inspired? Does it really belong to the Bible? Let us consider at this time the subject of Catholic apocryphals, for which they make such great demands; and by which they deny the Bible in common use by most of the brothers. 2 Macc 12,38-46 seems to be the main reason they cited the apocryphals. There is no other doctrine that relies so heavily on support in the apocryphal. If I were not afraid of absolute declarations, I would say that their defence of the apocryphals is due only to the passage and their affirmations his teachings. teachings. The Catholics have 46 Books of the Old Testament instead of the 39 found in our Bibles. However, they have added much more material to other books that do not appear under separate titles. This material follows: The Rest of Esther added to Esther; The Singing of the Sacred Children, The History of Susanna, Bel and the Dragon added to Daniel; Baruch, 1 and 2 Maccabees; Tobias; Judith; Ecclesiasticus; and the Wisdom of Sirach. The only powerful support for these books is © they appear in the Septuagint verse. However, in many of our Bibles there is a lot of material that is © inspired, including history, poetry, maps, news, and other information. This may be the reason for the appearance of this material in the Septuagint. The ap crica was not in the Hebrew dog. There are 263 quotations and 370 allusions to the Old Testament in the New Testament and none of them refers to the ACRO The usual division of the Old Testament by the Jews was a total of 24 books: The Books of Moisa s (51, The first prophets 14; Joshua , Ju zes, Samuel, and Kings ~, The Last Prophets (4; Isaiah, Jeremiah, Ezekiel, the 12 Minor Prophets), and the Hagiographer (11; Psalms, Prov  rbi s, J  , Song of Solomon. Ruth, Lamentations, Ecclesiastes, Esther, Daniel, Ezra-Nehemias, and Chronicles i. These 24 books contain all the material in our 39 th number. Josephus talked about the dog, but his division of books combined Ruth-Judges and Lamentation-Jeremiah in a total of 22 books instead of 24: "Because we do not have among us an innumerable multitude of books, ... only 22 books. containing the records of the past; that they are rightly divine;... Indeed, our story has been written since Artaxerxes very particularly, but it has not been estimated with the same authority by our ancestors;...and the firmness with which we have © reputed to these books of our own nation © evident by what we do; for for as many eas as they have gone ©, no one was so bold to add anything to them, or to make any changes" (Flavius Josephus Against Apion Book 1, Section 8). Josephus makes a clear distinction between the books written before and after Artaxerxes. This eliminates most of the apocryphals, especially the Macabeus. The apocryphal itself denies the whole notion of inspiration. Referring to the events in the Maccabees, the author makes these statements: "...all that was included in 5 books by Jason of Cyrene, we try to summarize in one book. Because we consider the difficulty they find in undertaking the storytelling, due to the multiplicity of the subject, we take care of those who are in fact willing to read... And as for ourselves, by undertaking this work of abbreviation, we have not taken at hand any easy task, yes...before a business full of observation and sweat... Leaving the authors the exact treatment of each particular, and as for ourselves, according to the proposed plan, studying for brief... For gathering all that is known, putting the speech in order, and curiously discussing each point in particular, is the duty of the author of a story. But to pursue the brevity of speech and to avoid pleasant statements of things, it is granted to him to make an abbreviation" (2 Maccabees 2: 24-32). "...I will also make a final of my narration. What if I am well, and how history becomes, is what I wished; but if it is not so perfect, it must be forgiven me. For as it is painful to always drink wine, or always water, but pleasant to use sometimes one, and sometimes the other, so if the speech is always well framed, you will not be grateful to the readers.". 12 Maccabees 15:39-40). This forms a bizarre contrast with New Testament passages: "Do not think how or what you shall say, for it shall be given to you at that very hour what you shall say." For it is not you who speak, but the spirit of yours Fatherin you"(Matthew 10: 19-20)." We do now. not the spirit of the world, but the spirit that © of God: s o that we may know the things that are given to us freely by God. That things too © We speak, not in words that the wisdom of man teaches, but that the Holy Spirit teaches"(1 Corsicans 2: 12-131. © refuted because: To quote from the first Christians of the apocryphals proves that it belongs to the Bible The first Christians quoted from all kinds of writings are not inspired that they do not apply. Because © that the Catholics do not include them in their Bible have been included in the Septuagint. The Jews never accepted the Apocryphals as part of the Old Testament canon. The Church Councils in Hipona (393) and Carthage (397, 419), listed the apocryphals as Scripture. Since these same advice also © m finished the 66 canonical books that all Christians accept, they must accept them all. Fake. The none of the New Testament was established from the first © culo. It is the Catholic myth that Catholics gave the world the Bible! The New Testament never cites any of the apocryphal books written between 400-200 AC. © significant here © that NO of the books within the "collection apocrypha" are all quoted. Thus, the catholic argument that "the apocryphal books cannot be rejected as not inspired by the fact that they are never mentioned in the New Testament because Esdras, Nehemiah, Esther, Ecclesiastes, Solomon's Canto also © They are never quoted in the New Testament, and we all accept them a s inspired"To refute this Catholic argument © that "Esdras, Nehemiah, Esther" were always included in the "Historical Collection" of Jewish books and "Ecclesiastes, Song of Solomon" were always included in the "collection of poetry". To quote a collection book, it verifies the entire collection. None of the apocryphal books have ever been cited in the New Testament. Not even once! This proves that Catholic and Orthodox apologists wrong when they try to defend the applicants in the The apartment doesn't belong to the Bible because it doesn't © inspired.
