How to feed a horse

As horse owners, we built our feeders to outlive the animals and their caretakers, we use heavy duty materials and components capable of withstanding a much greater load than our feeders require. A Feed Smart feeder is a one-time investment in your animals, and assurance for you they are being fed the way you want. The Feed Smart Automatic Feeder may be the perfect solution for your feeding issues. The feeder is completely self-contained, made of galvanized steel for decades of use, & solar-powered for reliability, no matter what the weather is like. While up to six feed times are possible each day, we recommend at least four feedings. You'll find that your feed stays fresh in the Feed Smart hopper for many weeks, due to the hopper design & the fact that the feed moves at each feeding. As with any automatic feeder, you must use a loose, dry feed in it, like an uncoated pellet or oats. A Feed Smart Automatic Feeder is a one-time investment in the well-being of your horses. It will keep your horses happy & healthy, while allowing you to live a "guilt-free" life, no longer having to feed late or skip feedings. "The Feed-Smart feeder has been a game-changer for our farm. We don't live on-site with our horses, so we wanted to find an automatic feeder that we could depend on and not have to drive back and forth to the barn multiple times per day to feed. We had purchased an in-stall system, but it relies on electricity. If the electric goes out, the horses don't get fed. If they bump a wire, the reset button trips, etc. With the Feed Smart feeder, we don't have to worry about the horses being fed on a consistent schedule, whether we are at home, or traveling. We have older, retired racehorses and older Quarter Horses, and they have all thrived on the feeder. We loved the first one so much we bought a second one! No more worrying about the horses breaking something the barn or the electric going out!" - Valerie, Lake Fork Stables in Yantis - Texas Read More Testimonials My Feed Smart feeder is the best product I have ever purchased. Not many products lead to the extension of the life of a user. That is what I can say, without a doubt, my feeder has done. I have a geriatric horse (Summer) that was not in good shape. She had an abscessed tooth that prevented her from eating. The vet came and fixed the tooth, but told me she would have to eat soft feed at least twice a day or she would die. She does not have enough teeth to get any nutrition from hay. Given where I work, and living, alone that was going be a problem. Luckily, I found online Feed Smart. Not only was it a great value, it has proven to be just what the vet ordered. She now gets four helpings of feed a day, which works wonderfully with her digestive tract. I do not have to feed as much because of it. The Mocks also recommended the type of feed needed for a horse in her condition. The company was great to work with and willing to do what was necessary to get my feeder set up. They are responsive to any needed help after the sale, as well. For example, they gave me advice on how to set up the feeder for my other horses, making sure Summer still gets her allotment. I have ever purchased. Sam - Arkansas The Feed Smart Automatic Feeder was designed and built by horse owners who through a tragedy of losing a mare and her foal from feeding issues while they were out of town and saw the need for a better and innovative way to feed horses and other livestock. Read More The Feed Smart Jr. holds about 300-350 lbs. of pellets or other dry feed, with a hopper design capable of dispensing its contents, even if you don't fill it up.
