

Continue

We recommend you: Sign out of the lost or stolen phone. Change your Google Account password.You have several ways you can get back into your account, depending on your circumstances. Use backup options If you've lost access to your primary phone, you can verify its you with: Sign in from a trusted device If you previously signed in from a device and checked the box next to Dont ask again on this computer, you might be able to sign in from that device without a second verification step. After you sign in to your Google Account, you can manage your verification methods.Get a new phone from your carrier If you lose your phone, you can ask your carrier to transfer your phone number to a new phone or SIM card.Recover your account Choose the right steps to get back into your account, based on if you set up another second step, like: Verification codes Google prompts Backup codes A backup security key youve added to your account A registered computer where you chose not to be asked for a verification codeImportant: If you added Advanced Protection to your account, you can only use a backup security key. If you dont have a backup security key, follow the steps to recover your account. Important: 2-Step Verification requires an extra step to prove you own an account. Because of this added security, it can take 3-5 business days for Google to make sure its you. Follow the steps to recover your account. You'll be asked questions to confirm you own the account. Use these tips to answer as best you can. You may be asked: To enter an email address or phone number where you can be reached. To enter a code sent to your email address or phone number. This code helps make sure you can access that email address or phone number. My passkey was lost or stolenLost or stolen device On a device youre able to access, sign in to your Google Account. Remove the passkey associated with the lost or stolen device. Learn how to remove a passkey. Missing or unavailable passkey If you have passkeys on your account but aren't offered a passkey during sign-in, make sure that: The device with the passkey has the screen lock enabled. If your device's screen lock is disabled, you cant use the passkey on that device until you enable the screen lock again. The "Skip password when possible" toggle is on in your security settings at myaccount.google.com/security. To sign in to your Google Account without a passkey, tap Try another way to skip the passkey challenge and go back to your earlier sign-in choices. Tip: If you choose "Try another way" often, Google will offer the passkey challenge less frequently in the future to reflect your implied preferences. You can change this by repeatedly signing in with passkeys. Require a security key as your second stepIf you turn on 2-Step Verification and sign in on an eligible phone, you can get Google prompts. To make a security key your required second step, enroll in Advanced Protection. Revoke lost backup codesIf you lost your backup codes, you can revoke them and get new ones. You didn't get a verification code You might have been sent a Google prompt instead. Learn why we recommend Google prompts instead of text message (SMS) verification codes. If we notice something different about how you sign in, like your location, you might not be able to get a verification code through text message. If a text message with a verification code was sent to your phone, make sure your service plan and mobile device supports text message delivery. Delivery speed and availability may vary by location and service provider. Make sure you have adequate internet connection when you try to get your codes. If you get a voice call with a verification code sent to your phone, you get a voicemail if: You cant answer the call. You dont have an adequate internet connection. Tip: If you requested multiple verification codes, only the newest one works. An app doesnt work after you turn on 2-Step VerificationWhen you turn on 2-Step Verification, you may need to sign in to some apps again. Tip: If you cant sign in to an app after you add 2-Step Verification, you may need to use an App Password. Why you shouldnt use Google Voice to get verification codesIf you use Google Voice to get verification codes, you could lock yourself out of your account. For example, if you sign out of your Google Voice app, you might need a verification code to get back in. But, because its sent to your Google Voice, you cant get the code. Work, school, or other organization accountsIf you use an account through your work, school, or other group thats protected by 2-Step Verification, and you cant sign in, you can: Use backup options. Contact your administrator. You cant use a second step to sign inUse a device you marked as trusted and go to account recovery. I cant sign in to my backup phone with text messagesThis can happen when theres something different about how you sign in, like your location. You may need to move to your main phone, or another trusted device, to sign in to your backup phone. Post to the help community Get answers from community members If you forgot your password or username, or you cant get verification codes, follow these steps to recover your Google Account. That way, you can use services like Gmail, Photos, and Google Play. Tips: Wrong guesses wont kick you out of the account recovery process. There's no limit to the number of times you can attempt to recover your account. If you use an account through your work, school, or other group, these steps might not work. Check with your administrator for help. To recover an account for a child under 13(or the applicable age in your country) you can reset your child's password. Forgot your password Forgot the email address you use to sign in To find your username, follow these steps. You need to know: A phone number or the recovery email address for the account. The full name on your account. Follow the instructions to confirm its your account. Youll find a list of usernames that match your account. Someone else is using your account If you think someone is using your Google Account without your permission, follow the steps to recover a hacked or hijacked Google Account or Gmail. If you have another problem, get help signing in. Recover a deleted Google Account If you recently deleted your Google Account, you can follow the steps to recover your account. Still cant sign in Create a new account If you cant sign in, try these tips for account recovery. If you still cant recover your account, you can create a new Google Account.When you do, you can follow these steps toavoid getting locked out of your Google Account. Avoid account & password recovery services For your security, you cant call Google for help to signinto your account. We dont work with any service that claims to provide account or password support. Do not give out your passwords or verification codes. Post to the help community Get answers from community members To sign up for Gmail, create a Google Account. You can use the username and password to sign in to Gmail and other Google products like YouTube, Google Play, and Google Drive. Important: Before you set up a new Gmail account, make sure to sign out of your current Gmail account. Learn how to sign out of Gmail. From your device, go to the Google Account sign in page. Click Create account. In the drop down, select if the account is for your: Personal use Child Work or business To set up your account, follow the steps on the screen. Create an account Tip: To use Gmail for your business, a Google Workspace account might be better for you than a personal Google Account. With Google Workspace, you get increased storage, professional email addresses, and additional features. Learn about Google Workspace pricing and plans. Try Google Workspace The username I want is taken You cant create a Gmail address if the username you requested is: Already being used. Very similar to an existing username. For example, if example@gmail.com already exists, you cant use example@gmail.com. The same as a username that someone used in the past and then deleted. Reserved by Google to prevent spam or abuse. Someone is impersonating me If you believe someone has created a Gmail address to try toimpersonate your identity, you can: Unfortunately, Gmail is unable to participate in mediations involving third parties regarding impersonation. Learn more about Gmail Terms of Use. Related resources How do I create a new Google Account? Sign in to Gmail Post to the help community Get answers from community members

What are the names for the two types of cells found in the nervous system. What are the two main types of cells found in the nervous system. What are the two types of glial cells in the peripheral nervous system. What are the two basic types of cells of the nervous system. What are the two types of nerve cells in the nervous system. What are the two main types of cells in the central nervous system. What are two types of specialized cells in the nervous system. What are the two main types of cells in the human nervous system. What are the two types of cells that make up the peripheral nervous system. What are the two major types of cells in the nervous system what are their relative functions. Lo 6.1 what are the two types of cells that make up the nervous system. What are the two main types of cells in the nervous system and what are their functions. What are the two primary types of cells in the nervous system.