She's got the power to love me by the hour

How much I love this group of Brewers? I mean «Take a chair.» Let me tell you a small story. It is a hospital bed, an iPad, two incredible Home Run, the most fantastic wife of the planet and A omit called Kash Kaha Wong. Before today, only my wife and my wife knew this story, and Alissa will probably kill her to tell her. But I love our fans, and ... you just have to hear you tell you. Then, here's how things are: It's a Saturday night in a birth room at the Froedtern Hospital at the beginning of last month. Alissa and I are preparing for the arrival of our first child. She is in bed, and I have a corner next door with a small sofa I had slept the night before. Nurses are entering and leaving. The machines are playing. Things are clearly increasing. But then, in addition to all this, a few kilometers further. Â «The Brew Crew, my boys, took care of the Cardinals. Before today, only my wife and my wife knew this story, and Alissa will probably kill her to tell her. "Kolten Wongso, I can't do anything, right? I have my iPad resting on the wall near the sofa, so I can keep my boys in the background. While the game is about to start, the time is approaching for Alissa. I am on the side of her bed with one of her's legs, and there is a nurse from the other side that she holds the other. I am the designated guy for countdown, so my work is counting down from nine to zero, while Alissa presses when I arrive at zero, you take a break. And things go great. Alissa's breathing is perfect, and countdown as a sample. Everything is going exactly according to plans. On the edge of my shoulder, I hear the announcers say that my man, Luis Uraas, is about to enter the stage and direct things for the brewers. At the beginning I try to ignore it. Obviously. It's like: friend, recomponi. Do your job! But at the same time, what can I tell you? Well, it's me. I love this team so much, and you have to understand ... Uria, it's my double game companion, and is a young boy. Since spring training, I did everything possible to tie with him and build his trust, doing what the boys did for me when I was younger. Luis? I mean, I love that guy. I'll shoot myself like a crazy. So, with my more 'serious and closed voice, I am all: Â "Nine, eight, seven, six, five, four, three, two, one, ZERO !! Â" But, at the same time, in the back of my mind, I can not help but make sure it is the first to knock on our side. Continue to count, Kolten. What are you doing right now? Shut up, man! Do not watch the game. Ancha I have been holding allâ start. Nine, eight, seven, six. But soon after that Alissa had finished one of her pushes and was taking a break, and 'it happened the most' absurd. It was as if A pat on the shoulder. As if someone was telling me ... Â «Hey, friend, turned only for a second fast ... Â Â« Now. Round the head and ... and ... to the iPad, and, I'm not kidding: that was the exact moment Luis threw an SUV into the bullpen out in the center left.Boom! 1st 0 Brewers. That's right.Thearon W. Henderson/Getty ImagesSo, Luis just hit a bomb, and I grab onto my wife's leg and scream, "Oh, my God. Oh, fuck! OH MY GOSH!!!! Alissa, she's looking at me. I'm staring. Dead in the eye. She goes, "What? What's this about? Tell me, I knew right away I screwed up. "Well, um, it's just, um... Luis, he just went off the field to start the game. So, you know, we're already up 1ç0. Pretty cool. "Ooooooooooof. I'm holding on to my wife's leg and I'm screaming, "Oh, my God. Oh, fuck! OH MY GOSH!!!! Kolten WongE Alissa, at that moment, God bless her... she doesn't pop in my mouth, or make my eye stinky. You understand. Alissa, you know me. "Oh, man!" she says smiling. Then, after a pause of about two seconds, he says, "NOW FOCUS!" Not long after, our healthy baby, Kash, arrived. And not 18 hours later, Vogie did that big slam to beat the cards, and... I may have screamed so loud that I woke up the baby. I guess you could say I'm still learning this paternity thing. But more importantly, we're talking about a pretty special 24-hour period, huh? And a lot of the reason why it was so special and why I'm gonna remember it forever, as long as I live, has to do with the city of Milwaukee, my teammates, of course, and the whole Brewers organization. But also many other wonderful and caring people in this city. All the doctors and nurses of Froedtert, who took care of Alissa. And the people in our neighborhood who sent us gift baskets when we got home with Kash. It actually goes back to all the people who welcomed us to this city when we arrived here and made us feel part of the community right away. I mean, our new neighbors literally baked us cakes and brought them when we moved in. I thought it only happened on TV shows.Â But it turns out, no Â; it also happens in Milwaukee.Our new neighbors literally baked us cakes and brought them when we moved here.-Â Kolten WongBefore I became a brewer, all I knew about Milwaukee was that the downtown area looks like She was pussy, and I liked steaks in Sono Carnevor. I had no idea what a united community it was. Everyone cares about everyone else in this town. What about our team? We're just a reflection of our city. We look out for each other, and we show each other so much love and support at all times. For me, it all started at spring training, when everyone here told me: go do your thing and be yourself! I remember how important it was to me that guys like Yeli and Lo Cain, those guys... from the first day of camping they were excited to have me around. around.Wait till you watch me play my game. Those guys for me? Let me just be straight about it: I really admire Christian and Lorenzo. They are consumed professionals. They continue things in the right way, and just as well as they are as players â----- also better people. Yeli, even if we turn in age, seeing already what has already been accomplished in his career? And how did you get to that? It's definitely someone I'm looking at. Just the awareness of his craft, and how it goes about his working day and day to day, good times and bad is â ~ | this is something that has been enormously influential for me. And Lorenzo, man is â ~ | That Guy's Our Rock. It keeps everything so relaxed and fun. And now he is also the fatherhood guru. He got it three boys. He's been there. You like my senseo. So with teammates like Lorenzo, and Yeli, and Vogie and, man, I can't forget my fishing buddy. Jace is â ~ | guys like that, I feel like I'm nothing to help those guys win a World Series For this amazing city.Ross D. Franklin / AP PhotoEnd, I really think we can do it too. We all give.We condemn that it is an elite team that can win everything. That's something we're preaching all year round. Everyone in our clubhouse believes. Because we'll have absolutely everything we need. When you get to postseason, everyone has a good offended. But I would take our pitching staff on any other league team because I know how good these guys are. I know how much they work. When they are ready, it's not really a crime you can do. And with our beaters, it seems like every day someone new passes into a great moment. It's almost like, spin the wheel and whoever lands will be a murderer. But you know what? Crazy as it may seem, it might not be enough for me and my teammates to do everything possible to bring a World Series trophy to Milwaukee. For us to do so, I truly believe it will take our fans with our shoulders 100%. You guys are the final piece of the puzzle that could make a difference. I know you all won that online competition earlier this year when you were named the best fan base in all of baseball. Well, I mean, what can I say? Now - now, and all these playoffs - it's time to show the whole world why Milwaukee holds that crown. Pack the park. We'll hear you. Make some noise! We totally tooth the energy you bring. The stronger it is, the more fun we'll all have. Believe me. And, look, good news is â ~ | If it comes to doing so, and we end up needing just a little bit more Mojo during these playoffs - a secret weapon if you'll have "It" I'm pretty sure my boy Kash has this untapped magical power that somehow makes the Brewers batters hit big runs home. Media, whatever it takes, Right? Right?
