The film is likely based on the Alvin and the Chipmunks episode Island Fever. Full Plot During a cruise for a family vacation, The Chipmunks and The Chipettes turn the ship into their personal playground, causing trouble. As Eleanor tries to get out of the basket, she falls and sprains her ankle. He returns with a gold bracelet which he gives to Jeanette. When the raft is finished, Jeanette and Simone are still in the forest looking for food. This is the second time The Chipettes star with the The Chipmunks in the CGI films. Dave is left hanging from the log when it almost gives way. The film premiered on December 16, 2011 in the United States. Cast Live-action Voices Trivia So far, every Alvin and the Chipmunks live-action film has premiered in December. Soon after Simon gets bitten by a spider that carries a neurotoxin. Dave notices that his old boss Ian Hawke is working as a pelican on the cruise and watching to see if the Chipmunks misbehave. Brittany's "Huh?" is re-used twice, the first time being when talking to Zoe and the second time when talking to Alvin. The face on Zoe's basketball, Spalding, is drawn to resemble Totoro from the Studio Ghibli film, My Neighbor Totoro. While on the raft, Zoe apologizes to Jeanette for kidnapping her and forcing her to get the treasure. Plot Playing around while aboard a cruise ship, The Chipmunks and The Chipettes accidentally go overboard and end up marooned in a tropical paradise. Zoe making friends out of sports balls is a reference to the film Castaway. Dave tries to take a hang glider to go after them but Ian attempts to stop him and they both end up in the ocean. Jeanette is the second of the six CGI Chipmunks to sing a solo song, "S.O.S." (The first being Alvin in the Squeakquel with his "cheeseballs" version of "Staying Alive"). Eleanor shouting "My Precious" is a direct reference to the film Lord of the Rings. As a gift, Jeanette gives Zoe the gold bracelet that Simone had given to her. This is the only CGI/live-action film to be rated G. Alvin is speaking on the pilot's microphone that the plane's destination is set for Timbuktu, when the flight attendant announces the airplane will start to fly. Alvin mistakenly pushes the food cart, which hits Dave, making him scream, "ALVINNNN!!!!". However, none of the Chipettes, who were then at Salsa Night, were wearing a pink skirt. Meanwhile, the six chipmunks find an island and sleep for the night. Also, every film ends with Dave screaming his trademark "ALVIN!". As Alvin and Dave come to her rescue, the island begins to rumble again and Zoe lets go of the rope. Simone is the third character to speak French in the films. The spider that bit Simon does not look like the one he scientifically described as Phoneutria bahiensis (otherwise known as a Brazilian Wandering Spider). Once Simone meets The Chipettes, he is overtaken by Jeanette and asks her to dance at Alvin's dismay. The film is a follow-up to Alvin and the Chipmunks: The Squeakquel (2009). The next morning, Theodore observes Simon's personality has changed, becoming a French, adventurous chipmunk named Simone and follows him. Jeanette runs with Dave and Alvin back to the raft but is pulled back at the log bridge. Brittany then asks Eleanor how to get there. When Dave returned to the cabin after dinner with the captain, he found a scrap of pink fabric with a top and a skirt cut out. When they all get together, preparation of a raft to get them off the island goes underway and everyone is assigned a job. Zoe meanwhile forces Jeanette to get the treasure by tying her to a rope. Alvin and the Chipmunks: Chipwrecked is a 2011 CGI/live-action film, directed by Mike Mitchell and distributed by Twentieth Century Fox, with Regency Enterprises and Bagdasarian Productions. The film stars Jason Lee, David Cross, and Jenny Slate, with the voices of Justin Long, Matthew Gray Gubler, Jesse McCartney (as The Chipmunks), Christina Applegate, Anna Farris, and Amy Poehler (as The Chipettes). This was the first film where the DVD scene selections were unnamed. Alvin decides to go para-sailing on a kite and he is blown away with the other chipmunks who are holding on. Dave enlists Ian's help find the same island and begin looking for the six chipmunks. The next morning, The Chipmunks go and find food and while doing so, an island castaway named Zoe shows up and sees The Chipmunks and The Chipettes for the first time. Box Office The film closed in the United States on June 7, 2012. Later, Zoe takes Simone, Jeanette, Eleanor, and Theodore to a waterfall and Simone finds a cave while Alvin and Brittany are on the beach finding wood to make a shelter. Theodore and Simone finally find Dave and Ian. When Simon is found, he cannot remember anything since the bite. The film has received unfavorable reviews from movie critics but has proved to be a huge financial success, making over $130 million to date in North America alone and over $340 million to date in total worldwide receipts, while being made on a budget of just $75 million. They discover their new turf is not as deserted as it seems. When they approached the tree log to cross, Dave and Alvin decide they'll go and find Jeanette, while Ian and other chipmunks go back to the coast. When Alvin prepares to sleep, Simon has trouble sleeping. It was a huge box office success, with a final domestic earning of $133,110,742 and a worldwide earning of $209,584,693 for a grand total of $342,695,435, making it the third highest grossing Alvin and the Chipmunks film. Alvin and Simon were grabbed by Dave (Theodore is watching Jungle Monster 4) when they are caught in the casino. Goofs When Simone and Jeanette dance in the rain, he sings "Say Hey," but his singing voice is normal, unlike his speaking voice. Simon swings in to help Jeanette before Alvin can cut the rope with his Swiss Army Knife. Suddenly, Simone gets knocked out with Zoe's golf ball and Zoe kidnaps Jeanette (with the help of her basketball). This film was filmed in Hawaii. After Alvin and Ian convince Zoe to help save Dave, they run towards the raft and escape the eruption. Simon goes unconscious and reverts to his normal self when he wakes. Brittany, figuring Zoe is responsible, asks him where he found the gold bracelet that he gave to Jeanette, but he doesn't remember. Alvin reconciles with Dave and they are rescued. Ian regains his career and job back by selling Zoe's story to Hollywood. The captain allows them one more activity: Shuffleboard. The Chipmunks and The Chipettes perform at the International Music Awards. This is the second film that The Chipmunks get mistaken for squirrels, although the first for The Chipettes. This is the last CGI/live-action film to feature Amy Poehler as the voice of Eleanor. This is the last CGI/live-action film to feature David Cross as Ian Hawke. In the film's epilogue, The Chipmunks, The Chipettes, and Dave are on an airplane heading back to Los Angeles. The next day, Brittany and Alvin see an active volcano and they all decide to leave the island. Zoe said it isn't a big deal and that she is normal, despite being bitten twice a day the spiders. They then go to Zoe's tree house on a zip line.

Alvin and the Chipmunks, originally David Seville and the Chipmunks or simply The Chipmunks, are an American animated virtual band created by Ross Bagdasarian for a novelty record in 1958. The group consists of three singing animated anthropomorphic chipmunks named Alvin, Simon, and Theodore. They are managed by their human adoptive father, David "Dave" Seville.
