With Dogecoin, there's a substance. However, it is enough to soften the blow, as Musk's ability to drive speculation in it continues to decline. With the possible risk of loss greater than the likelihood of any rebound, it is better to stay away. Jackson Palmer, one of Dogecoin co-founders (DOGE), is in the news after explaining his position on crypto in a Twitter thread. The Lukka cryptography management team and Wall Street data team behind the S&P 500 launched a robust new crypto index product. It could be too early to say. But updates for these consolidated coins and altcoins, along with outstanding improvements to several others, could bring a return to a bull market for cryptographers in the previous months. So, what are some of the main updates set to go live in the immediate future? These sects may (or may not) have an impact on the general direction of the market: Cardano Bitcoin Dogecoin (CCC:DOGE-USD) Ethereum Classic (CCC:ETC-USD) Ethereum Neo (CCC:NEO-USD) Star Lumens (CCC:XLM-USD) Litecoin looks like a crypto business now trading away from its peak. Litecoin could bounce 46% a year over the next two years. Since the entire cryptocurrency market softens, the price of litecoin was dragged through the mud, down 55% from a high of $408.37 reached in mid-May at the price of today of $183.31. Investors interested in cryptocurrencies must decide whether the current Litecoin slump represents an opportunity to purchase or whether they should stay on the sideline during current volatility. After the news of Tesla's suspension of Bitcoin transactions, Musk might end up talking about these 7 greener alternative cryptos. It can be a stretch to say that you will be able to buy at or near its past bass (about 20 cents), in front of a decision/But, if you are interested in XRP, due to Ripple's chances of winning against the SEC, waiting for another double digit percentage decline remains the best move.
